

In Transit

These moving works capture the artists' physical or imaginary journeys.

By Vincent Leung

Jason Capobianco

1. London by Marcos Marin, 2014
218x140cm, silkscreen print
from Avenues des Arts $155,000

Rendered in his iconic optical art effect, the painter-sculptor visits Big Ben from a brand new perspective.

4. Sai Kung Fishing
by Euan Macleod, 2014
76x56cm, oil on canvas
from Pao Galleries
$56,000

Together with painter Peter Godwin, Macleod's works are featured in the exhibition The Painters Journey: Hong Kong and China from April 2 to 21.

2. Voyage de noce
by Rachel Gozlan 26x12x18cm, metal,
copper and stone
from Rouge Ephemere Art Gallery
$7,265

Embark on a romantic boat trip with the French sculptor, who garners inspiration from the Greek island where she resides.

5. Mask Figure by Michael Cartwright, 2003-2004
33x36x84cm, bronze cast from original marble carved sculpture from Deem $220,000

Tribal masks are celebrated in this piece by Michael Cartwright that brings to mind our primitive sense of selves.

3. Moon Phase 06
by Jiang Shan, 2007
80x50cm, giclée print on Hahnemühle
photo rag paper
from Art Projects Gallery
$5,800

This multi-episode series bathed in bright comic colours is a playful, whimsical adventure through fantasy land.

6. Biography of Light 1
by Daido Moriyama, 1984 23x34.2cm, vintage gelatin
silver print
from Simon Lee Gallery US$8,000

The influential photographer's solo exhibition Searching Journeys is on until May 7, documenting Japan and its post-war evolution.